Alpha SHIELD

REPEL THE UNWANTED

ALPHA SHIELD is a cutting-edge technology designed for Alpha Zero Surfaces. Though invisible, it effectively prevents staining and keeps surfaces clean while defending against everyday wear and tear. When applied, ALPHA SHIELD provides safety against most common household chemicals.

This protection is attributed to the chemical stability of ALPHA SHIELD, which withstands pH levels ranging from 1 to 13, making it the sole protector resistant to a wide variety of chemicals.

ALPHA SHIELD represents an innovative advancement in stain and substance repellent technology, positioning Alpha Zero as the leading choice for clean, low-maintenance surfaces. With minimal water absorption at 0.01%, it resists staining and repels chemicals across a wide pH range, ensuring exceptional durability and safeguarding against acid corrosion.

Care and Maintenance

Alpha Zero™ surfaces are low-maintenance due to AlphaShield technology, which repels stains and simplifies cleaning.

To keep your surfaces looking great, wipe them down with a damp cloth and warm water.

Daily Cleaning

For routine maintenance, use a damp cloth or paper towel with a pH-neutral cleaner. The effectiveness of cleaners can vary based on their pH levels, so choose accordingly. Recommended Alpha Surfaces creme cleanser.

Cleaning Guidelines

- Spills: Clean immediately with a non-abrasive pad and pH-balanced cleaner; denatured alcohol may also work.
- Stubborn Stains: Use a multi-purpose cleaner, rinsing thoroughly afterward.
- Cooking Grease: Apply a degreaser with a pH between 1 and 13, following instructions and rinsing well.
- Permanent Markers: Clean as for daily maintenance; for persistent stains, use a diluted non-abrasive cleaner.
- Recommended for the above is Alpha Surfaces creme cleanser.

Actions to Avoid

Do not expose Alpha Zero™ to strong alkaline or acidic cleaners, acetone, bleach, abrasive pads, or sealants, as these can damage the surface.

Additional Considerations

Crafted from premium minerals and recycled materials, Alpha Zero™ features natural variations in colour and pattern that do not affect performance. While AlphaShield enhances stain resistance, the surface is not completely heat or fracture-proof.

Always use trivets or hot pads to prevent heat damage.

For warranty details, refer to the Alpha Zero™ Warranty guidelines on the website.
